

Nexus: Histories & Communities

Nestled within the lush Okanagan Valley in central British Columbia, Kelowna has always attracted artists, many of whom live among its hills and orchards. As a result the Kelowna Art Gallery has developed a unique collection by some of the greatest Canadian artists of the twentieth century. In this magnificently illustrated publication artists and art lovers celebrate this particular wealth. Six thematic essays are accompanied by dozens of personal testimonies from the community. Nexus refers to the connection between the gallery and the public that was strengthened through this process. A timely lesson for any gallery seeking to widen its reach.
