

Healing Through Forgiveness

Healing through forgiveness is a fascinating autobiography that will captivate you. From beginning to end you will find that once you start reading you will not want to stop. This true life story speaks directly to your heart. I was the product of a divorce at a very young age. A short time later I was physically abused. From this, I develop to an introvert with irrational and pessimistic thoughts. These abnormal thoughts combined with a broken heart kept me in a fearful state of mind. Not knowing how to express my feelings bonded me to a miserable existence. Feeling trapped within myself I begin to accumulate character flaws. Low self-esteem was a major part of my persona. Discovering the drug culture eased my pain of low self-esteem. From drug user to drug dealer I suppressed my emotions and became more miserable than ever. I have lived through five near death experiences. I ask you! Have you ever been hurt by someone that was supposed to protect you? Have you ever witnessed the one person you loved most die? Have you ever felt that you could not live through one more dire moment? I have!!! I invite you to read how I am able to forgive myself. Once I forgave myself I was then able to forgive others who I felt trespassed against me. Experience what I feel trumps all of this and allows me to be free and happy. Read what allows me to love myself, others and you. How can I love you when I do not even know you? Simple, you have never done me wrong, and if you did I would have to forgive you. While reading this book, you will cry, laugh, and cry some more. Then, ultimately rejoice. See what I once stood for. See what stands before me now. See how I appreciate, respect, and love something that is so much greater than all of us in this universe. Compelling, with great inspiration, this book IS!!!
